

The Horseman's Airline.

Presidential Airways has the largest and best equipped fleet of fanjet Citations and turbine-powered Gazelles in the U.S.

Our stable of deluxe private jets and helicopters is at your command.

We'll fly you directly to any track or farm East of the Mississippi.

Swiftly, safely, comfortably. And privately.

On your own time schedule.

A great time saver

When you fly with us you won't waste time with check-in lines, departure lounges, trudging down long corridors or waiting for baggage.

And you won't have to worry about connections.

If you're late, we won't leave until you arrive.

And we'll also wait at your destination to take you to your next stop.

Or whisk you back home as soon as you're ready to return.

We bring the airport to you

You'll be amazed at how close to your office, home or farm we can land.

Our twin-engine Citation jets can fly you to 1800 more airports than the commercial airlines.

And our nimble Gazelle helicopters can take you right to almost any farm or track in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware or Maryland.

Concorde's little brother

The Gazelle is built by Aerospatiale, the same company that built the Concorde.

No wonder the Gazelle is the fastest helicopter now flying, winner of three world speed records.

With a Gazelle, you can get to where you want to go in about one-quarter the time it would take driving.

Citation: the personal jet

For trips of more than 150 miles, we suggest you go by Citation, the sleek private jet named after the famous race horse.

You can buy your own Citation for around $850,000. Plus $50,000 for an in-flight telephone and all the other special equipment we've added to our planes.

Or you can use one of ours for only $2.70 per mile on one-way trips; $1.85 per mile on round trips.

Complete with a crew of two professional airline pilots.

If you use our service two or more times a year, the rates are even lower.

You can't beat flying the Presidential way

We can help you get to more places, see more horses, make the most of your time.

And turn traveling from a chore into a pleasure.

Ask for our new color brochure and rate schedule.

It's a sky-opener.
